

2010 Tech Sheet

Seriously tasty. This wine will help you come up with all sorts of reasons to celebrate and pop another bottle. Focused on fresh red berries but with great layers of complexity, chocolate and cream, spice, fine tannins and soft luscious sparkling finish.

This wine is made for fun, the label is jumping out at you, the bubbles are doing the same and the flavours just make it too easy to enjoy.

The grapes were grown on the Longbottom vineyard in Padthaway, the Birchmore vineyard in Langhorne Creek and the Hunt Creek, Semmens and Mollydooker vineyards in McLaren Vale.

Serving Suggestion

If at all possible, plan ahead for your parties and celebrations and store your Miss Molly in the fridge for at least three days prior to drinking. Then, when you pour your Miss Molly, the delightful bubbles will be tinier and creamier.

Nick's Wine Merchants

'Showing very good hold this Sparkling pours with a purple tinged mousse which once dissipated reveals a black dark crimson red base wine colour. Profuse, exceptionally fine bead. Good intensity on the nose with ripe blackberry and liquorice scents followed by some toasty oak and spice. Rich, concentrated palate flavours of ripe blackberry, liquorice and dark plum are overlaid with some toasty vanillin oak and spice on the back palate. Rich creamy mouth feel with medium to long aftertaste of ripe blackberry, liquorice, vanillin oak and spice. Drink over the next 3-4 years (2013-2017)' - '95 points' & '5 Star Value - Exceptional Value for Money' www.nicks.com.au
